The St. Albert Co-operative Playschool concluded the first part of a three-part study of Canada with a special program Friday morning, when Fathers Colin Leverage and Jake Joly were their special guests. Topic of the study was "Who was here before we came" and the children emphasized Indians, as being more familiar in their area than Eskimos. Pictured in the photo are, from left: Gordon Bull, Melanie Elliott, Ricky Kotylak, David Higgs, Shelly Ward, Billy Mitchell, Barbara Weller, Robert Ohtotinsky, Liada Nielsen, Bill Yacey, Derek Lux, Father Joly of St. Albert Parish and Mrs. Nielsen school assistant, are standing.

Council Application Endorsed by Town

Town council received a proposal from Sturgeon Valleyvision, planning to serve the St. Albert area with cable television services. Making the presentation was R. A. Russell of the firm of Williams and Wilson Ltd., consultants for the applicants. Also present was John Barnaschone one of the four principals of the cable television firm.

In his presentation, Mr. Russell explained to town council that his company had an application with CRTC and said, "Sturgeon Valleyvision will give St. Albert residents cable television within six months from the date of approval." He further said that Sturgeon Valleyvision will have studios and offices located in St. Albert, will offer a complete cable vision package according to CRTC regulations plus a community channel and an auxiliary channel which can be put to use in case of emergency.

In his submission to council, Mr. Russell pointed out that in view of the fact no other firm had an application to serve St. Albert, he urged council to endorse his firm's proposal, "and thus give us additional backing when our application is heard by the Commission," he said.

Council asked for a breakdown of rates. Mr. Russell said the cost of installations would be $15 per residence, $6.50 for one outlet and $1.50 for each additional outlets. Mr. Barnaschone interjected by adding that bulk users (apartment blocks) would be rated as one installation of $15, if they so desired.

When asked by council why cable television was slow in coming to St. Albert, Mr. Russell asked not to be forced to elaborate, how-

MacEwan will open Skate-a-thon again

The St. Albert Kinsmen have completed arrangements for their annual Skate-a-thon coming up on March 19 at the St. Albert Arena. Rusty Pollock has approached the mayor and councillors, customary supporters, although skier Baker has a bad foot and Hudson is more inclined to curling. Kambourff usually shows, Throdsdon is new this year and in our estimation could be in trouble versus the mayor, de Brujin is a broomball star, and Luky, who is often on the nether end of a 6-1 vote may not show up.

One repeater who is certain to show up is the incredible Grant MacEwan, lieutenant governor, who will officially open the skate-a-thon at 10 a.m. and is a sure bet to complete the maximum 100 laps (10 times around the arena).

Kids eight and under will skate from 10 to 12 noon. The 9-11 group go from 12:30 to 2 p.m. and 12 and over from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

Changing rooms will be available 30 minutes prior to a given skating period. Parents are invited to skate with their children should they wish.

For a look at the prizes, drop in at St. Albert Sport Shop on Perron Street.

The St. Albert Kinsmen are appreciative of the response of local people to past skate-a-thons and are confident they will again help to make the event a lot of fun and a successful project in support of Kinsmen community service.

Sponsors are requested to pledge a minimum of one cent on the pledge cards, for example one cent per lap - maximum 50¢. Cards are available at all schools, Emery's Pipe Shop, Macs Grocery, St. Albert Sport Shop or from any Kinsmen.

Town Planner will speak to meeting

Mr. John Woodroffe, town planner, will be guest speaker Wednesday (tonight) 7:30 p.m. at a public meeting of the St. Albert Community Planning Committee. The meeting will be held at the Father Jan School and members as well as the general public is urged to attend.

Phil Upright as a police sergeant, and Bob Fix, the Russian spy give out with an impression of how the arrest might be staged during a third-act rehearsal of "See How They Run." Tickets are now available at Sweetheart Jewellery, St. Albert Sport Shop and The Gazette, for the performances on March 22, 23, 24 and 25th Saturday, March 18, amateur theatre fans can also get tickets in the St. Albert and Sturgeon Players booth to be set up at the Sideshow entrance. The comedy production, set in an English vicarage, is under the direction of Ken Graham.

Council Drafts Proposal For Increased Recreation Grants

Council dealt with a routine agenda Monday evening, running quickly and efficiently through many items which had been discussed thoroughly at previous regular and special committee meetings.

Three bylaws, 7/72, 8/72 and 9/72 dealing with rezoning and amending zoning and building, were given first reading and referred to public hearings which will be held on April 3.

Cr. Kambourff questioned the amending of Bylaw 9/72 which deals with clinics coming under Zone 'C' and proposed for amendment to Zone 'SP' (institutional). Cr. Kambourff is of the opinion that a clinic means a pharmacy, and consequently this type of outlet, "hardly falls under the heading of institution," he said.

Mayor Gibbon qualified the point that while going through an amendment of zoning and building to suit a clinic, there is no evidence that the said clinic will include a drug dispens-

WI Show will show what's new

The annual Spring Fashion Show, sponsored by the St. Albert and District Women's Institute, will be held Friday, March 17 at Father Jan School. It was estimated by Lorraine to be the 12th or 13th successive show.

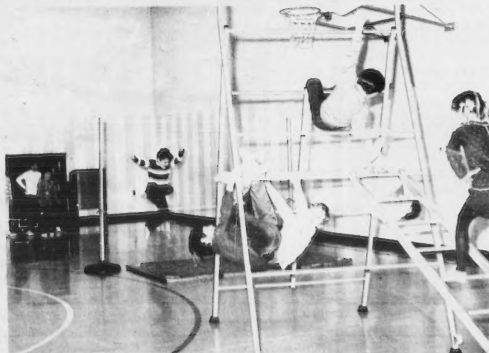

Fashions and accessories will be by Woodwards again this year and include styles for children from age four, teen-age fashions, ladies to size 18 and the latest in mens wear. Rumour has it certain handsome local school principal will be modelling some of the latter.

Vivian Mair, fashion coordinator for Woodwards will comment on the clothes and Bertha Kennedy will provide appropriate musical background.

The beautiful handmade quilt, worked in a shamrock design will be raffled during the show, a fitting occasion, since it will be St. Patrick's Day. The quilt which won for the local WI chapter the best over all award in provincial handicraft competition, will be on display Saturday at the Sideshow entrance lobby, when tickets on it will be available. Proceeds of the raffle will go towards the WI project undertaken last year, to provide a diathermy for the physiotherapy department of Sturgeon General Hospital.

You may get tickets for the Spring Fashion showing by telephoning Janice Cunningham at 599-7004, or Marg Sechter at 599-8510.

While observing Education Week at Robert Rundle Elementary School, Grade 2 students are seen above practicing their gymnastic routines in preparation for the Education Night Show scheduled for Friday, March 10 from 7 to 9 p.m. The Open House program will also feature fine arts, French and gymnastics, with special emphasis on 'Learning Disabilities' theme of the event.

Liberals Form 'Shadow Cabinet'

The formation of a 'Shadow Cabinet' by the Liberal Party of Alberta was announced this week. Its formation was made public by Danny Daniels, chairman of the cabinet committee, on behalf of Bob Russell, leader of the Alberta Liberals.

"It is our intention to monitor the actions of the Conservative Government and to present the Liberal alternatives during the course of this next and subsequent sessions of the Legislature," noted Mr. Daniels. "We already have an established and sound party policy on all major areas of provincial concern," he said, "and we intend to show that we are very much a viable and active political force in Alberta."

"We will have spokesmen for the most vital areas of legislative activity but, since we feel that there are already some misconceived provincial portfolios, their duties will not all correspond to existing cabinet position."

Mr. Daniels pointed specifically to the Liberal's intention to ignore Don Getty's Intergovernmental Affairs Department — "That's just a Mickey Mouse assignment" he contended. In addition, education would be treated as one portfolio, while health and social development would receive separate responses.

Liberal critics who will make up the 'Shadow Cabinet' are: Mines and Minerals, Leader, Bob Russell;

Dr. Howell to speak on Health Centres

The Preventive Social Services Committee has invited Dr. Jim Howell, medical officer of health for the Sturgeon Health Unit to a public meeting on Thursday, March 9, at the council chambers at 8 p.m. Dr. Howell will give his views on a proposal to come before the provincial legislature that will affect medical and social services in St. Albert. Everyone wanting to hear about these radical changes and to exchange their views are invited to attend.

Dr. Ken Paproski, MLA Kingsway, plans to submit to the legislature as soon as he can a proposal for "health and social development centres" throughout the province. These centres will employ doctors, nurses, physiotherapists, social workers, psychologists, welfare workers, etc. under one roof. The centres Dr. Paproski says, will cut bureaucracy and costs, be more efficient and better provide physical and mental health services to the citizens of Alberta.

These centres are intended to serve rural and urban populations of about 10,000 to 30,000. They will be controlled at the local level by a board of directors composed of one-half local citizens and one-half professionals working in the centres. These local boards will have representation on a provincial board which will report directly to the legislature.

Mona Acker, PSS Director in St. Albert, says that the concept of health and social development personnel working together under one roof is excellent in principle, but the Paproski proposal needs much re-working before it would be acceptable to the citizens of St. Albert. Would these centres be too oriented toward physical health and not enough toward mental health? Will the medical doctors accept the restrictions that may be placed upon them? Would social workers again be placed in a position subservient to the doctors? Is there true community control when one-half of the board is made up of employees?

These and other questions will be discussed by Dr. Howell and others at the meeting, perhaps St. Albert could come up with a proposal? Come and have your say, says Mrs. Acker.

Municipal Affairs, Deputy Leader, Brian Stevenson, Calgary; Education, Caucus Chairman, Danny Daniels; Environment, Julian Kinsky; Attorney - General's Department, Sol Estrin; Health, Dr. Len Patterson, Red Deer; Social Development, Mrs. Bernice Luce, Ponoka; Northern and Native Affairs, Stan Daniels; Labour, Jack Dunbar, Calgary; Youth, Culture and Recreation, Gerry Lorente; Tourism, Rod Woodcock, St. Albert; Highways, Harve Durocher and Public Works Art Yates, Fox Creek.

Critics in the areas of the provincial treasurer's office, agriculture, and other portfolios will be announced within the next 10 days.

Work and play make great scout outing

Forty-three boys of 3rd, 4th and 5th St. Albert troops, accompanied by 13 adults and leaders, spent Sunday at the Poole scout camp on Lake Wabamun, as part of their outdoor activities training program.

Despite the fact that the boys had no luck with the fishing (for the second year in a row), they did add considerably to their knowledge and skills in outdoor living.

They constructed huts on the ice, using poles and tarpaulins, in teepee style. In one of these, a large pan of briquettes was used to provide a very comfortable warm-up spot for the young fishermen.

The boys were also shown how to construct a lean-to shelter from materials at hand, so as to get the best protection possible from cold and winds. They learned by the "do-it-yourself" method, under adult supervision.

A third skill in which they got practice was gathering dry firewood, and they managed very well indeed under difficult conditions. Finally cooking skills were improved for the scouts who prepared the dinner.

But the day's outing was by no means all work and no play. In addition to the fishing, snowshoe races were organized. With snow up to the waist of an adult, and knee-deep even on snowshoes, these resulted in innumerable spills and falls and much hilarity between adults and children. In the end the adults conceded that boys can snowshoe better than grown-ups.

One of the men found the place where an owl had burrowed deep under the snow in the bush and some of the young fellows were able to see this example of how wildlife operates for winter protection.

Two ladies kept a pot of hot chocolate on the go all day, which was much appreciated by both boys and adults. The day ended with the traditional scout closing exercise as all joined in the pledge and prayer. Then it was chocolate bars all around and back on the bus, chartered from Western Bus Lines.

Mr. Al Barnes had warm praise for the parents who attended this outing and backed up the people who work in the movement in excellent fashion.

ALBERTA LEGISLATURE

FIRST SESSION OF 17th

By Ovi. Baril

The Speech from the Throne which opened the first session of the 17th Alberta Legislature last Thursday afternoon contained no world-shattering surprises but nevertheless outlined five major areas in which Premier Lougheed has been saying that his government will deal with. Not earth-shattering but important areas for all Albertans.

Read by Lt.-Gov. J. W. Grant MacEwan, the speech outlined legislation on:

(a) Protection of human rights.

(b) A study on the plight of senior citizens.

(c) The preservation of the family farm.

(d) More facilities and support for handicapped children.

(e) Mental health reforms.

The Alberta Bill of Rights, to be the paramount legislation of the province will be introduced at the outset of the session. In addition, an Individual Rights Protection Act will be introduced to replace the former Human Rights Act.

The Bill of Rights will protect the citizen from the encroachment of the state while the Individual Protection Act is designed to protect the individual from discrimination by other citizens.

A bill called the Confidentiality of Public Documents Act, designed to prevent the disclosure of a person's private documents by the government without his consent; amendments to the Ombudsmen Act with an eye to making the ombudsmen more independent from the government; and the repeal of the Sexual Sterilization Act, which was intended for convicted sex offenders, rounds out the proposed human rights legislation.

Senior citizens will have their Medicare exemptions ratified at the session and an amendment will be made to the Highway Traffic Act whereby citizens over 70 years of age will not be obliged to take annual driver's tests if they have a safe driving record and can provide the necessary health certificate.

In the area of agriculture and the family farm, an Agricultural Development Act will be used to attack the problem of improving the strength of the family farm and the declining income level in agriculture. An agricultural development fund of $50 million in capital to cover all areas of agricultural credit, with special programs aimed at the small farmer and the young farmer will be established.

The new government will take immediate action on the Alberta Mental Health study undertaken by Dr. W. P. N. Blair nearly three years ago, but the program to help handicapped children seems a bit fuzzy at the present time and no new legislation will be introduced in this area at this session. However, "new directions in programs" will be presented for consideration during the session, leaving one to believe that the Lougheed team is still a little unsure of itself in this area and wants to study the whole aspect of the situation before taking positive action.

The current session will also deal with the royalties question of the department of mines and minerals and will introduce a new Coal Conservation Act. The whole aspect of environmental controls will get plenty of attention while the Water Resources Act will stand to be revised.

Other areas which will receive attention from Alberta's new Progressive Conservative government include: education, labor, cultural, foreign investments, communal property, censorship, crop insurance etc.

The Throne Speech made it clear the Conservative government will not hesitate to repeal what it feels are outdated laws or unnecessary statutes.

Therefore, there have an idea of the Lougheed Battle Plan. And it looks like the 49 member P.C. government, facing 25 Social Credit members on the Opposition side plus one NDP member, will have its work cut out for the session ahead.

the Gazette REFLECTS

The Monster Is Stirring Again

We're not impressed at all with the prospects of becoming a part of the City of Edmonton's proposed annexation plan and we are especially distressed with the concept of a 'unitary government' this proposal would bring about.

Mayor Dent of Edmonton accused former city councilors of 'fumbling' the annexation issue and instructed his aldermen last week to look at The Hanson Report, 1968, with definite determination to go ahead with the proposal.

In brief, the proposal means that the City of Edmonton would extend its boundaries to include St. Albert and Nampa to the North, Sherwood Park to the East of Edmonton, Winterton to the West and Ellerslie to the South and everything in between.

Now, that's quite a chunk of real estate. It means adding 170 square miles to Edmonton's present 122 square mile area. If all this goes through, that means that Edmonton's new 292 square mile expanse would rival the City of New York which has a population of about 6.2 million people living within 310 square miles. If 'living space' is what Mayor Dent is after, the annexation proposal will certainly give him that.

The Hanson Line, compiled by U of A economist Dr. E. J. Hanson in 1968 was approved by The City of Edmonton in principle at the time, and it has now been revived in such a way whereby Edmonton is getting the 'political machinery' in motion to get the ambitious plan underway.

First step will be for the city to appear before the metropolitan affairs committee of the provincial cabinet and outline the case for annexation. At which time, five additional recommendations will be made. These include: a unitary style government, establishing a boundaries commission, prohibit piecemeal annexations, that the Provincial Government pay for a ring road system or establish a green belt outward of the city's new boundaries in which no further development would be permitted.

We expect that much water will flow under the proverbial bridge before such an ambitious plan becomes a reality. We think so because there are so many questions which the Hanson Report fails to answer. The first one which comes to mind is, "are we prepared to lose our autonomy plus our identity?" We cannot see where a unitary form of government would be an asset to residents of St. Albert or of any of the other self-contained centres involved in this empire-building scheme.

Mayor Ray Gibbon of our town appears to have the right attitude when he said, "this is not a foregone conclusion that we're going to combine." He admits that he's met with officials from the other centres involved and is looking forward to more meetings with elected dignitaries representing Sturgeon, Parkland and Strathcona. We're pleased that our elected representatives aren't being bamboozled by our 'empire builders' to the south of us.

Let's wait and see what kind of reception the City of Edmonton gets when it attempts to by-pass the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission and zero in on the metropolitan affairs committee of the provincial cabinet. We hope Edmonton will be able to present a more convincing proposal than it has come up with so far. If not, may we suggest that the City of Edmonton file away Dr. Hanson's report and that Mayor Dent concentrate on putting to better use, land which is already within his city's boundaries.

When one compares Edmonton's present area of 122 square miles for a population of under half a million and New York's area of 310 square miles for 6.2 million people, this comes out to about 4,000 persons per square mile in Edmonton against 28,000 persons per square mile in the American metropolis. That point alone should make it abundantly clear that such an ambitious annexing program is economically unsound.

But if the annexation proposal should become a fact, then Edmonton's new area would be increased by 170 square miles and using the present population figure as we did above, we find that the new monster of a city would have only 1,900 lonely residents per square mile.

Man, that's real living space, and we predict it would be sufficient for many years (perhaps generations) to come.

We Feel That Council Goofed

At Monday's regular council meeting, an application was heard from Sturgeon Valleyvision, which, according to our thinking was fine and dandy as far as the procedure was concerned. We compliment Messrs: Russell, Barnaschone and company for their initiative in wanting to bring to St. Albert cable television services.

We do, however, feel that council did not act in the best interest of the people of St. Albert when they went on record by endorsing Sturgeon Valleyvision through a motion put forth by Councillor Hudson and unanimously approved.

We feel this action by council gives this particular cable television firm an unfair advantage over other firms which may come forth with similar or more ambitious proposals.

Spokesman for the applicant, R. A. Russell did tell council that their endorsement would add a great deal of weight to Sturgeon Valleyvision's application now standing before CRTC. Why would council go out on a limb and create a precedent?

We feel that this motion was very wrong and that council could have applauded the application in principle and not theoretically closed the door on one of our basic democratic concepts of free enterprise.

Raise Pheasants?

In an attempt to expand the pheasant raising project sponsored by the St. Albert and District Fish and Game Association, interested individuals are invited to attend an organizational meeting at the St. Albert Community Hall on Tuesday, March 21 at 7:30 p.m. Materials and techniques will be discussed and an experienced pheasant breeder will be on hand to answer questions. If you are interested in raising these beautiful birds here is an opportunity to do so.

Sportsmen are reminded of the Wildlife Buffet and Trophy hall being held by the association on Friday evening at the Community Hall. Tickets are available by phoning 599-3441.

Campers to hold dance to start new season

The St. Albert 69ers Campers Club is holding a dance at the Rosslyn Community Hall (134 Avenue and 111 Street) on Saturday, March 11th. Music is by the Golden Altos and dancing goes from 8 p.m. - 1 a.m. Refreshments and lunch will be served and all interested may telephone 599-8290 for tickets.

A group of St. Albert families, who enjoy camping, first got together early in 1969, which is how the club got its name. Since that time they have become chartered and are associated with the Alberta Travel and Trailer Association.

The 69ers make one important distinction however. They place no restrictions on membership as far as type of camping is concerned. Families who enjoy tenting and tent-travelling are welcomed by the local club.

They held many most successful family camp-outs last season, when everyone from babies to grandparents enjoyed outdoor living, often on weekends at nearby lakes to cut down on driving time.

The many local people who enjoy camping will be warmly welcomed by the 69ers at their dance and as new members. Funds will go to promote the coming season's activities.

Landing Trail Notes

The Scouts and Cubs have completed a very busy round of activities. It seems the boys of the 1st, 3rd and 5th groups enjoyed themselves at their respective banquets which were held during Baden-Powell week.

The 4th Cubs and Scouts annual family night will be held on March 11 at the Community Hall. It has been billed as a St. Albert night as the guests are all residents of our town. Sing Out St. Albert will entertain and Bayne Norris will speak to the boys and their parents.

Morinville boys held a curling bonspiel on Feb. 27 at the Morinville Curling rink. Twelve rinks took part in the spiel sponsored by the Lions of that town. The Massey Harris trophy which was donated by Norman Meunier was won by the rink skipped by Mel Hittinger. Other event winners were Eugene Charest and Ed Kryslow rinks while the consolation (last place) was won by Dennis Telford.

The boys took part in a profitable bottle drive on Feb. 26.

The Scouts held a fishing derby on Lake Wabamun on Sunday and it was reported to me that the only winners were the fish as none were caught. A good time was had by all.

Landing Trail is made up of the four St. Albert groups and one from Morinville. There is a service team made up of a group of people who are responsible for seeing that the aims of the Scouting movement are carried out. There are men who wear the uniform and carry out the training of the group leaders and co-ordinate the inter-group activities. Each of the groups appoint one member to sit on the Landing Trail district committee to keep their group aware of district activities, and to help in its operation.

The monthly meeting of the Landing Trail District Committee is to be held at 8 p.m., March 15 at the Braeside Presbyterian Church. All interested persons are invited to attend.

We also would like to ask the residents of St. Albert to support the 5th in their Fertilizer Drive on April 8 and the 3rd in their Hot Cross Bun sale on March 25th.

Through this column our aim is to bring Scouting closer to the general public and answer many questions that have been asked.

That annual dues become payable on January 1st, and the final deadline is firm at March 31. Regular memberships are $9.50 and cheques should be made payable to the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 271, and forwarded to the Legion at Box 271, St. Albert.

Deane Taylor (599-3881), Reg Bremner, chairman, (599-8456) or Bill Edwards (599-8841). Gary Scott and his combo, who proved very popular on their last appearance two weeks ago, will again be providing the entertainment at the Legion Hall this Saturday evening. Members and prospective members are invited to come down that evening, or any Saturday evening for an evening of fun, and a look at the architect's sketch of the proposed new Legion!

Terrace Reporter serves useful purpose

The fourth issue of the Ridgewood Reporter, an informative and newsy report of 30 pages, complete with an attractive cover designed by Carmen Rudd.

Condominium living is fairly new in Alberta and these monthly reports appear to be an excellent way to keep people in the know on how they operate, and new ideas for this type of housing.

Each issue carries a report of the meetings of the Ridgewood Board of Directors, and the current issue includes a section on the bylaws of the corporation by Gordon Unger, plus financial statements by treasurer G. L. Rosser, and traffic regulations by Gerald Samuel, vice-president.

A series dealing with the highlights of St. Albert history, by Alexis Tetreault, OMI has also been started.

At the same time the Reporter, edited by Audrey Lilge, helps bring the Terrace people into the life of the community through news of local activities of all sorts.

St. Albert girl Wed in Australia

St. Peter's Church of England, Wynnum Central, Brisbane, Australia was the scene of a pretty wedding at 4 p.m. January 1st, 1972, when Sharyn Louise, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sutherland of St. Albert, Alberta, became the bride of Flying Officer Geoffrey Grahaeme Atkins, son of Mrs. Fay Atkins of Brisbane, Australia. Father Smith officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by Squaron Leader Ernest Storm, RAAF who stood in for her father. Sharyn chose a floor length gown of white dotted organza, fashioned with an empire waistline, short sleeves and rounded neckline. She wore a Jeanne veil trimmed in white dotted organza, and carried a cascade of red roses and white baby's breath.

Mrs. Cherry Dundas-Smith, as matron of honor wore a blue floor length gown of crimplene with white trim. She carried a bouquet of yellow frangipans and blue cornflowers.

The bestman was Flying Officer Grahaeme Smith.

Mrs. Storm, acting for the mother of the bride, chose a blue coat and dress ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's mother wore a dress of beige and brown silk with white accessories and a corsage of tea roses.

A reception, dinner and dances was held at the Skiff Club Darling Point, Wynnum Central, where Flight Lieutenant Rod Neilson was master of ceremonies.

For going away the bride wore a lavender hot pants outfit and white accessories. After a honeymoon at Surfers Paradise on the Gold Coast, the happy couple are now residing at RAAF Base Richmond, N.S.W.

The Guard of Honor wearing formal Mess Kits of the RAAF were F.L. Peter Dundas-Smith; F.O. Grahaeme

Crombie; F.O. John Kentish F.O. Paul Robey; F.O. Michael McCracken; F.L. Rod Neilson.

Sharyn is a 1968 graduate of St. Boniface School of Nursing, nursed at Victoria General ICU Winnipeg, King Edward VII Memorial Hospital, Hamilton, Bermuda, and University Hospital, Edmonton, prior to going to Australia.

Legion hosts reception

The St. Albert branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held a reception Saturday evening for Paul and Shirley (Brook) Lefebvre, following their afternoon marriage ceremony and wedding supper. A capacity crowd packed the Legion Hall for this happy occasion. Paul and Shirley were presented with a gift by Mr. Reg Bremner, on behalf of the Legion and Auxiliary of which they are members.

Members wishing to help the building committee, or wanting more information on plans for the new building should get in touch with Deane Taylor (599-3881), Reg Bremner, chairman, (599-8456) or Bill Edwards (599-8841).

Gary Scott and his combo, who proved very popular on their last appearance two weeks ago, will again be providing the entertainment at the Legion Hall this Saturday evening. Members and prospective members are invited to come down that evening, or any Saturday evening for an evening of fun, and a look at the architect's sketch of the proposed new Legion!

Letters to the Editor

Skate-a-Thon

The Editor:

This year's Kinsmen's Skate-a-Thon pledge cards state: "Minimum Pledge = 1 cent per lap, please." As we all know, there are many children in St. Albert, the majority of them very capable of skating the full 100 laps as most of us learned last year.

Our desire to sponsor many children at a smaller amount rather than a few at the requested rate led us to call the Skate-a-Thon committee. We requested permission to sponsor children at 1/2¢ per lap. We were told that all pledges under 1¢ per lap would not be accepted; they will be crossed off the child's list of sponsors. Why? The reason given was that pledges under 1¢ are difficult to compute and to collect! What is so difficult in computing 1/2¢ per lap? We believe the skaters who do not collect their pledges or the sponsors who do not pay their pledges would not do so regardless of the amount involved. And will the children not become discouraged when people are only willing to sponsor a few children because of the cost involved? A child skating 100 laps with 10 sponsors at 1/2¢ per lap will earn $5.00. Is this not an acceptable donation?

However, in all fairness to the Kinsmen we must say they did agree to accept flat rate pledges. But what incentive does a child have to skate 100 laps when he knows he will receive a certain amount regardless? We suggest 10¢ for 40 laps, 15¢ for 50 laps, etc., or some other formula could remedy this problem.

The Kinsmen Club deserves compliments for its many worthwhile projects, but we suggest a change of policy for SKATE-A-THON pledges for next year. Probably as much or more money would be made, and there would be many more happy children who wouldn't be turned away from so many doors.

We believe many citizens feel as we do.

Eileen Lockyer,

Projects protested

The Editor:

In response to the Separate School Board meeting, Feb. 28, I quote from the Gazette report: "The board then asked for anyone to speak against the project, to dissenting voices were heard." Pray tell, what were all these 60 people doing there. At least five people got up to object to both the ski project and the French Language Project. Yes we want these projects for our children but not to the detriment of their education. The school board says they have a two million dollar budget. They say a $1,100 and a $500 grant is a small amount to spend on such a worthy project.

Lets first get our children to school everyday with small grants like these for school buses and a grant for lunchroom supervision when the weather is so below and its too cold for children four blocks away to walk home at noon. In all honesty what did it cost the school board to pay teachers on those cold days when there were only eight or nine children in class who watched movies and such because there were no lessons for so few.

Why should we have to fight with the people we voted in to take care of our children's education. Lets first get our children to school and not with frozen fingers. Then we can go on to more improved education. "In Alberta."

Would there be a great deal of preparation for the French Project if it were to unite Alberta in a bilingualism - bi-culturalism experience hopefully to better relationships between the two peoples first.

Please remember taxpayers, the position of a school board member or members is not infallible. Talk to your neighbors, write letters, use your local newspaper and by all means get to know your school board members for all our children's sakes.

Mrs. Amy Johnson,
Mission Ave.

Regional Leaders Register City Annexation Proposal

M.L.A.s of the area surrounding Edmonton and representatives of St. Albert, M.D. of Sturgeon, counties of Parkland and Strathcona met this morning with Municipal Affairs Minister Dave Russell at the Legislative Buildings to express their views regarding Edmonton's proposed annexation plan.

Present for the meeting were: Ernie Jamison, PC member for St. Albert; John Ashton, PC member Edmonton - Otsewa; Sherwood Park; Wm. (Bill) Purdy, PC member Stoney Plain; (Rusty) Bander, PC member Drayton Valley (Parkland). The regional M.L.A.s were joined by Walter Van de Walle, reeve of the M.D. of Sturgeon, accompanied by secretary-treasurer, Alphonse Robert, and representatives from the Two

Hospital Auxiliary members Eileen Gibbon, left, Mary Bondarevich and Delores Kambooroff help Mr. Ralph Jordan display the beautiful rug he made for the Auxiliary for a raffle project. The design chosen is called Spanish Delight, worked in shades of melon, orange, brown and sand and the rug is 34" x 52" in size. It will make an ideal raffle prize and Eileen and Delores, in charge of sales are not anticipating any difficulty in selling tickets.

The Auxiliary was delighted when Mr. Jordan offered, through his neighbor Mrs. Bondarevich, to make the rug, and they supplied the materials. He learned the craft while at Geenrose Hospital, and has since continued it as a hobby, which occupies his time, particularly in the winter months. The rug will be on display throughout the entire time, particularly in the winter months. The rug will be on display throughout the entire time, particularly in the winter months. night coming up at the St. Albert Community Hall on March 25th.

Council of St. Albert and the counties of Parkland and Strathcona.

The dialogue with Hon. Dave Russell centered on objections to Edmonton's move to annex approximately 170 square miles. This proposed annexation would include portions of all of the centres represented by the officials who attended the meeting.

It is the opinion of the representatives who met with the Municipal Affairs Minister that the proposed annexation plan is not acceptable in its present format, and voiced their objections to Mr. Russell.

"How is the new girl in the office doing?" "Fine, but she is awfully nervous. As soon as she sits down at her desk she starts to work."

Firm seeks license for Cable T.V.

By Bob Russell

Sturgeon Valley Vision has a submission before the Canadian Radio/Television Commission that would give St. Albert residents cable television within six months from the date of approval. The submission may be heard by the CRTC as early as mid-March according to Mr. John Barnaschone who made the announcement in St. Albert this morning.

The cable system would carry two U.S. channels, CBC, CTV, CBXFT as well as four extra stereo FM radio channels.

ST. ALBERT COMMUNITY CHANNEL

Mr. Barnaschone of 66 Grandin Road, a St. Albert resident for over 12 years, said that his company would also provide a separate community channel for St. Albert. "This will allow us to preserve the unique identity of the St. Albert community as well as provide an important community communication facility."

Sturgeon Valley Vision would provide a cable hook up between schools so that the new developing media facilities in district schools could produce programs for the other schools as well as the community. Coverage of town council, school board meetings as well as other events could also be carried on the community channel.

Mr. Barnaschone also announced that the company would locate its business office and studio in St. Albert to operate the Sturgeon Valley portion of the system. The company has also applied for the new development area in North Edmonton but Mr. Barnaschone says that

Cable T.V.

Continued from page 1, ever, he said that Sturgeon Valleyvision had no cash problems because it was concentrating its efforts on selling St. Albert only and not a larger area.

When asked who owned Sturgeon Valleyvision, Mr. Russell explained that the firm was wholly owned by four principals, Messrs. Tomkins and Surnik of T & R Systems Ltd., William Becker and John Barnaschone.

When discussions ended, Cr. Hudson moved that the application be endorsed by council according to the letter tabled by Messrs. Russell and Barnaschone. The motion was carried.

"we will begin supplying service to St. Albert within six months of approval whether we receive the other areas applied for or not."

Sturgeon Valley Vision is seeking support from organizations and individuals for the St. Albert area in order to present as strong a case as possible before the CRTC.

EDITOR'S NOTE: According to a public release from the Canadian Radio/Television Commission, dated Feb. 25, 1972, applications for FM radio channels by an Edmonton cable TV company and two Calgary firms, were withdrawn by the commission due to pending resolution of problems related to the implementation of the cable television policy.

sary, but if such was the case, "an application by a drug dispenser to function within the clinic would be fine," he said. If the applicant wants to dispense more than drugs, like stationery, toys, gifts and the such, this situation can be dealt with by council through a permit.

Continued under the heading of Dept. of Culture, Youth and Recreation, council approved representation from St. Albert to the workshop. In the same area of Culture, Youth and Recreation, council approved that a recommendation be made before March 15 addressed to Horst A. Schmid, Minister of Culture, Youth and Recreation, that the regulations now existing be amended. The recommendation reads that the only qualifications necessary for either current or capital grants be that a municipality have an established recreation program.

The present regulations dictate that there should be a Parks and Recreation Board in existence in order to qualify, and the dollar per capita is divided into 10¢ for leadership development, 20¢ for facility rental and maintenance, and 70¢ for direction. The first two qualifications create no great problem, but the 70¢ is almost impossible to claim. The results are that St. Albert has a recreational program cost in excess of $100,000 while our grant amounts to only about $6,000.

Around Town

The boys and leaders of 5th St. Albert Cubs and Scouts report fine response from St. Albert residents on their telephone book indexing project. They are still taking orders and anyone who would like to have a new phone book conveniently tabbed at a fee of $2, should telephone 599-8290 to make arrangements.

A man called in a TV repairman to fix his set. After replacing a tube and making a minor adjustment, he presented a bill for $25.

The owner hollered: "Twenty-five dollars! I can get a doctor to make a house call for fifteen!"

"I know," said the repairman, "I used to be a doctor."

bage truck and packer unit was discussed quite thoroughly. The problem arises from the fact that this unit is quite old and is in need of repairs. It was also pointed out by J. Maandag, town engineer, that in view of this unit's condition and the town's increasing volume of garbage, "a second unit will be required soon." When asked what would be the approximate cost of upgrading the present unit, Mr. Maandag said, "repairs would cost about $3,000." When asked what would be the price of a second unit, Mr. Maandag said that the purchase price for a new truck and packer would be between $22,000 and $25,000. This item was moved by Cr. Thompson to be tabled for further discussion at the next meeting. Carried 5-1.

Under new business, Mayor Gibbon brought forth two motions. The first read in effect that he wishes council to oppose The Hanson Report (re: annexation with Edmonton) and reports of same in the media. His second motion is for St. Albert to enter in a dialogue with the MD of Sturgeon and the counties of Parkland and Strathcona to align themselves against the Hanson Report and the City of Edmonton's plan toward annexation. Although Cr. de Bruijn suggested that council should oppose the Hanson Report in detail and not in general, the mayor's two motions were carried 5-1.

Councillor Thronson questioned the wisdom of this town having an unlisted number for the arena. Discussion brought out the reason why this number is unlisted, namely to prevent an undue volume of calls directed at the caretaker. Cr. Thronson made a motion that the arena number be in future listed under the Town Hall number. Motion carried.

This display, photographed Tuesday morning at the entrance to Safeway in Grandin Shoppers Park, depicts what may be the first attempt locally to bring the school to the people instead of vice-versa during Education week. Pictured with part of their display are staff and student members of Father Jan Junior High school: Moira Martin, art teacher, left, Corinne LeBlanc, Debbie Ten Have, Kathy Hauptman, Silvia Kuehler and Gertrude Olliphant, librarian. Display, which emphasizes science projects, also shows social studies work, woodworking and such optional courses as outdoor education, where students learn techniques of tanning and cleaning and mounting hides. Parents were also invited to the school during the week and on Monday and Tuesday sat in classrooms to watch lessons being taught. They can also see the new audio-visual equipment being operated by the students. The visual tape recorder can reproduce lessons for closed-circuit televising in the school, to the benefit of both teachers and students, and uses interchangeable tapes, enabling the school to exchange tapes with other educational institutions.

An application by Sun Colorpress Limited to enter with The Town of St. Albert in a contract to supply a weekly newspaper with provisions for special advertising rates and the such was rejected by council. However, council did approve a motion toward obtaining advertising price quotations from the St. Albert Gazette, published weekly and The St. Albert Star. The prices sought will be for 50 per cent and 100 per cent, meaning a split advertising budget between the two papers or all with one of the papers.

On the question of the Consumer Price Index in relation to wage adjustments of non-union Town of St. Albert staff, a motion was passed unanimously that such salaries be increased by 4.5 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1972.

In an effort to conduct an Edmonton area odour survey, Stanley Associates Engineering Ltd., received approval of council to enlist the volunteer services of the St. Albert Fire Department. The St. Albert firemen agreed to maintain a continuous record, for a 12 month period, of odour observations at eight hour intervals. The typical routine will be for one of the fire department duty personnel to make one observation per shift, directly outside the building, of the intensity of the odour, if any, a description of it, and perhaps, the source, if known. These observations will then be recorded on tabular forms which will be provided. The motion was approved unanimously.

COMETS DROP FIRST GAME in PLAY-DOWNS

The Comets travelled to Cold Lake on Sunday and came home three goals behind.

Scoring in the first period was opened by Comet's Al Laplante at 1:02 of the first period. But Cold Lake came back with two quick tallies to pull ahead 2-1. Captain Fred Hesse blinked the light at 9:04 to even the score.

In the second period Bob Bell banged one home to tie the score once more.

In the third period, penalties proved costly to St. Albert and they dropped behind 3-2.

The Comets play the second round of the two-game total goal series here in St. Albert on Saturday, March 11th at 8:30 p.m.

Dube Spoils it

March 3rd didn't prove to be worth two points for Comets as they dropped a 5-2 decision to Sherwood Park Barons.

Comets were behind 3-0 after the first, and 5-0 halfway through the third before Terry Dube ripped the shutout spoiler home at 13:12 mark. Jim Read followed suit five minutes later with a goal on an assist from L. Yachuk.

Fire Chiefs Round-up

St. Albert bantam Fire Chiefs bowed out of the Edmonton Rural Hockey League playoffs in straight games last week, dropping 10-4 and 9-3 decisions to Fort Saskatchewan.

The St. Albert representatives built up an early 1-0 lead in the opening game in Fort Saskatchewan but before the shooting stopped after the first 20 minutes of stop-time play the Chiefs had a 6-1 lead.

Chiefs were only outscored 4-3 over the rest of the game, but the tone was set for the series. Chiefs held the Fort to a 0-0 tie for more than 17 minutes in the second contest, but once Fort Saskatchewan got its first goal, two more quickly followed and the opening period ended 3-0 Fort Saskatchewan.

Greg Thibert scored two goals to lead St. Albert scorers in the opening game. Tom Parayko and John Wells got the others.

Parayko counted again in the second game and Rod Gouchey and Barry Kane, a recent recruit from the bantam A house league, also scored.

With league play out of the way, Fire Chiefs are now setting their sights on a round of exhibition games. They already have 39 games under their belts and hope to bring the total close to 60 before the season ends.

A complete list of Fire Chiefs scoring follows:

Peewee 'B' Exhibition

On Saturday, March 4, the Thorncliff Peewee 'B' team travelled to St. Albert from Calgary for an exhibition series against the Legion team.

The Calgary team arrived at the St. Albert Arena at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. It was joyous mass confusion as the coaches, Doug Foreman and Bill Kelly paired the boys together for overnight lodging.

The first game was played at the arena at 5:30 p.m. and Legion came out on the short end of a 4 to 1 score. It was a well played game and the Calgary team alone with their exhibition of body-checking and passing.

The second game was played Sunday at 12 noon at the Mission rink. After a good nights rest, the Calgary boys flew to a 6 to 0 via over Legion with their passing game being the main feature of their attack.

The Legion team are returning to Calgary for the weekend of March 18 and 19. The boys are anxiously looking forward to the trip and the games.

Many thanks to all those parents who so wholeheartedly co-operated to make the past weekend a success, and the thanks of the Legion team to Mr. Calkins, the arena staff and Bob Villeneuve at Mission who gave all their co-operation needed to make the weekend a success.

Exhibition and Injuries

St. Albert Fire Chiefs bantams dropped a 9-5 decision to Legal midgits in Legal on Monday night, but in the process lost much more than a hockey game.

Team Captain Greg Thibert spent the night in Sturgeon General Hospital after suffering injuries to his ribs when he was speared by his own stick as he was taken into the boards. He will be lost to the team for at least two weeks, a heavy blow for the Chiefs as he had been the team's sparkplug all season.

It was just another in a long line of mishaps for the Chiefs in recent weeks. Michael Byl suffered torn ligaments and internal bleeding in the groin and hip area and was in hospital for a week. He will be out the rest of the season as he'll be on crutches at least another two weeks.

Lloyd Olson has been in a cast with a broken ankle for two weeks, and will have it on until April 9. The shift centre still has hopes of getting into an exhibition game or two at that time.

Actually, Thibert's trip to hospital was his second in two weeks. The first came after a blow on the nose, when he started hemorrhaging several hours later.

Fire Chiefs were down 4-2 after the first period and 6-3 after the second at Legal. Tom Parayko led the Chiefs' attack with two goals and Rod Olsen, Terry Leddy and Sandy Millroy got the others.

Last week the Chiefs played to a 1-1 tie with the Legal bantams in Legal, an abrupt change from the 9-1 drubbing Chiefs handed out in the first meeting between the two clubs.

Barry Kane scored the only goal for St. Albert in the first period. Legal tied it in the second.

Bicycle Club

Racing and touring plans for the 1972 season will be discussed by the St. Albert Bicycle Club at their meeting Friday evening in the meeting room of St. Albert Library. Meeting begins at 8 p.m.

The meeting is open to all interested cycle fans, and as award-winning film "Of Sport and Men," will be shown.

Coffee and cookies will be served at the end of the evening, giving opportunity for those present to become better acquainted and for informal discussion.

ST. ALBERT RECREATION

Announcements about recreational activities being carried on in St. Albert appear in this column through the courtesy of the Editor. It is, however, impossible to refer to them all each week. Information can be obtained by phoning the Department of Recreation at 599-6601.

Most winter activities are drawing to a close after a busy season and spring and summer programs are still in the planning stages. In spite of the masses of snow lying around, spring really is just around the corner and a call will be sent out shortly for coaches for summer activities: baseball, soccer, softball, etc. When planning for summer, include some time for coaching or managing a team of boys or girls. St. Albert has a very high proportion of young people and each year there is increased participation in all activities and more coaches than ever will be required for outdoor sports this year. Phone the Recreation Department if you feel like volunteering your services - or if you would like information about what goes on in St. Albert during the spring and summer. GOLF:

The first session of the learn-to-golf school was held on Tuesday, March 7. From March 14 two classes will be held from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. and from 7:45 - 8:45 p.m. If anyone has any doubts about times please phone the Recreation Department.

as runners-up in the Bmixed doubles. Linda Parsons and Karen King won the C ladies doubles.

Plan new home grounds for beauty-use-budget

ARTICLE 5

Now that you have all the earth spread and levelled over your lot, have the concrete walks, patio, garage pad and driveway poured. If you cannot afford it all, then do the two real essentials first. These are the side-walks and the patio. Do yourself and your family a real favor and don't try to save on 18 inch wide sidewalks. They look horrible! Twenty four inch walks are less horrible, whilst 36" to 40" wide walks will give the whole property an air of graciousness and space, at very little extra cost. Keep the top of the forms flush with the level of the topsoil. Don't let any concrete men kid you about putting the forms up above the ground level. If they start this sort of thing, it is only because they don't wish to go to the time and trouble of a little extra excavation with ash-vel. With grass and concrete level, mowing the lawn is a snap, and the lawn mower will glide over grass and concrete with no obstructions.

Before you sow grass, make up the borders around the front, side and rear of the house, three foot to four foot width. These are the areas which will be planted with shrubbery and flowers and are known as the "Foundation Planting." We will discuss trees and shrubs in the next chapter.

Go to your local lumber yard and ask for a 4' x 8' x 1/4" sheet of the least expensive plywood, and have it sawn into four inch widths (this should give you 12 strips 4' x 8' long). The reason for using these strips is because they will bend into attractive curves, and when placed on edge and held with pegs or stakes, they will follow exactly the lines you've drawn on your plan.

Before seeding or sodding, put up your fence. Now check off the following list on your drawing or plan: Foundation Planting area, around house. Borders for trees and shrubs in rear, or Living Area. Open lawn area. Kiddies play area (sand box, swings etc.) Small garden plot for fresh vegetables. Service area for garbage cans. Sidewalks, patio, garage and driveway.

In the next chapter we will seed, sod, and plant trees and shrubs.

NOTE: The author will answer any correspondence if mailed to: — Ted Makin, Artistic Landscapes Ltd., 9443 — 68A Street, Edmonton, Alberta.

Game reduction for Elk Island

Large numbers of moose and elk will have to be removed from Elk Island National Park this winter to ensure the available carrying capacity is not exceeded, the National Parks Service reported recently.

According to a recent study carried out in the Park there is a surplus of about 165 moose and 175 elk which could endanger the survival chances of the total number if over utilization were allowed to continue.

The reduction will leave about 300 moose and 250 elk in the Park along with the 400 Plains Bison on the range.

Park Wardens will start slaughtering the moose immediately with the meat and hides to be distributed to Indian bands throughout the province by the Indian Affairs Branch, according to R. P. Malls, Western Regional Director of National and Historic Parks.

However, attempts will be made to capture the elk live when suitable net traps arrive from the supplier. This move is in response to requests from the Province of Alberta which intends to transplant the animals to various regions, Mr. Malls said.

Of the number to be reduced, a total of 35 moose and 40 elk will be utilized by the Canadian Wildlife Service at varying times throughout the winter for detailed studies correlating snow depth and climatic severity with the condition of the animals. These studies will help lead to a long range management program for the Park, Mr. Malls said.

The 26 square mile "Isolation Area" of the 76 square mile Park constitutes some special game management problems and has to be considered separately, Mr. Malls said. The area is reserved for a herd of 33 Wood Bison, the only known purebred examples of the sub-species, which are kept there for scientific study and to avoid cross-breeding with the Plains Bison in the northern section of the Park divided by Highway 16.

The study recommends that as many deer as possible be eliminated from this area to avoid their potential for carrying ungulate diseases to the Wood Bison.

NOTICE TO AGT CUSTOMERS

Users of direct distance dialing will notice a change starting Monday, March 13.

When making a DDD call, in-progress tones will no longer be heard. Once you've dialed your number, you'll notice a slight pause—without chatter—from the time you finish dialing until the called telephone rings.

Please do not hang up and re-dial. Your DDD call is simply speeding on its way without the familiar switching sounds in the background.

The disappearance of these sounds is the result of new electronic switching equipment, installed to provide more efficient DDD service to Edmonton and district customers.

by Mona Acker,
PSS Director,
Town of St. Albert.

The Preventive Social Services program has now been operating in St. Albert a full six months. It is time to step back and take an objective look at what it has accomplished and decide if it is a program worth continuing. This decision is in the hands of the citizens of this town.

The Help Society has been able to continue its two projects, the Mother's Day Out and the Homemaker Service. The funding provided the Homemaker Service and the consultation available to both through PSS has enabled them to serve St. Albert more efficiently and effectively.

A day care centre will be opening its doors to preschoolers of working parents before the year is out. A group of hard-working parents and professionals are turning the indignation and determination of one parent last fall into a service to benefit the entire town. Mothers, knowing their children are well cared for, may now turn their full attention during the day to their job. The centre is coming at a crucial time when the federal government, through its new tax laws relating to babysitters, is making those babysitters a more scarce commodity than it already is. Howard Clifford, Edmonton Day Care Consultant, reported by the Edmonton Journal on Monday, February 28, to have said that many women and teen-agers without Social Insurance numbers were becoming reluctant to care for children. If their wages would have to be reported, would there be a day care centre if there was no

Preventive Social Services program.

A preparation for marriage workshop for engaged couples will be held March 10, 11 and 12 at the Star of the North Retreat House. This came about through PSS Director, the District Home Economist and the Recreation Coordinator for Sturgeon calling together a number of persons in the people professions to discuss education for living programs. The ad hoc committee formed by this group hopes to serve as a resource for programs growing out of the concern of citizens for a better life.

PSS has helped the town residents become familiar with the federal Opportunities for Youth program. The director has provided services and advice to several groups submitting project proposals. Hopefully, up to 50 young people will have jobs this summer while providing a useful service to St. Albert.

PSS has served as consultant to a group of single parents formed in February. These people have come together because one parent families have special needs. But, they are discovering that they also have special strengths and resources and that being a single parent has its positive aspects.

The PSS committee, composed of interested citizens is planning their 1972 objectives. So far these include the printing of a booklet listing and defining community agencies and resources and what they do; investigating the social factors in physical planning of the town; studying and making submission to the provincial government on the effects of proposed legislative changes in St. Albert and; providing town residents with a forum for the discussion of the particular

All Tickets Sold For Legal Dinner Plate

by Lucienne Montpetit

The Legal and District Community centre held their annual Dinner Plate on March 4. All tickets (230) were sold in advance for this yearly occasion.

As the doors swung open at 7 p.m. the supporters of this event came in from all parts of the district as far as Edmonton.

As the spirits began to flow the conversation grew louder and it became quite evident that the people were gearing up for a good time.

The abled ladies of the kitchen then announced that supper was served and for the next two hours the banquet room was the most popular place in the hall.

The band struck their first notes at approximately 9 p.m. and after a few toe tapping tunes, they paused for the draw of tickets.

Walter Van de Walte, master of ceremonies called upon the chairman of the board Marcel Coulombe for a word of welcome.

A very prominent citizen well known to all, Mr. Ernie Jamison, M.L.A. was called upon to draw the first name out of the drum.

The first ticket drawn was Mr. Carl Mirus/Barry Muller won the first $25 as the winners were not present to draw the next tickets. Mr. Jamison drew the next 25 names. The following $25 winners were Miss Marie Laframboise, Daniel St. Martin, Camil Bolle, Jos Pysman, Legal, Louis Morin, Edmonton, Armand Tieltie, Albert Lambie, Westlock; Noel Tieltie, Legal and R. winners were: Philippe Prefontaine, Rene Shank, Leo Ragimbald, Wilfred Labelle, Legal and C. A. McLaughlin from Morinville.

The Board extends to all lucky winners their congratulations and hope they will be with them next year.

It is the Board's pleasure at this time to express to all concerned regardless of what part you played in the success of this evening, their "warmest thanks," because "without the support given, an evening of this nature could not take place."

A reminder to village residents of their annual meeting on Friday, March 10 at 8 o'clock in the community centre. It is to everyone's advantage to attend.

With Spring around the corner, the dog problem is again rearing its ugly head.

A bylaw has been passed to take care of the situation and if adhered to by all dog owners, there would be no problem. However, if dogs are allowed to run loose, an outside dog catcher will be called in, and the cost will be charged to us all by way of an increase in taxes.

A special meeting of village council is being held here: bylaws for borrowing for the installation of sewer and water for the new subdivision.

Get well wishes go to Mrs. Margaret Hewitt, Sturgeon General Hospital.

Bon Accord Pee-wees took their first scalp in provincials by downing Vimy in two straight, the second game being played at Vimy on Feb. 23. Other directors are: Eldon Samis, Frank Malanachen, Earl Mulligan, Irwin Strawn and Stan Danke. Marshall Hewitt is president. A few complaints were dealt with, the main one being calls which hold up the lines for too long a period. Shareholders are reminded of the bylaw limiting conversations to five minutes, especially during the hours of 9 and 6 when most business calls are placed. A motion to charge a minimum of $3 to any account, effective immediately, which requires a trip by the troubleshooter for collection received the approval of the meeting.

This is "slash." It is all that remains after clear-cut timber harvesting and consists of broken logs, ends of tall trees, branches, and of course those trees which are too small for utilization and are cut down merely because they get into the way of the machinery.

"Keep Alberta Green"

ARTICLE TWO

If we harvest irrationally without care we will destroy not only the forest environment, but the renewability of the timber resource as well.

The harvesting method most damaging to the environment is the practice of clear-cutting of large areas, often more than a square mile in size. This method becomes especially destructive, if it is followed up by slash removal methods which destroy remaining plant-life and disturb the root-work underground which took centuries to grow, and which are the only things left to hold the soil in place against erosion.

Clear-cutting methods are presently being used by timber operators for economic reasons. Some of the new tree-harvesting machines can de-branch, fell, and store a tree in a log-pile faster than most woodsmen could start a chainsaw. But the machines require "elbow room" to operate, and are costly to move from place to place. They therefore cut everything that is either usable timber or gets into the way, any balance of smaller trees and brush is soon run over by the machinery, or buried under piles of slash. Slash consists of branches, short and broken ends of timber, crooked logs, and of course the large amount of small trees that are not usable timber and is merely cut down because it gets into the way.

After harvesting, the area looks as if it were hit by an atomic blast or some sort of terrible natural disaster. Twisted slash covers the entire area to an average of one foot thickness of solid wood. Timber operators in Alberta are required to replace harvested timber through reforestation programs. For companies which use clear-cutting methods this is an impossible task as long as the slash remains on the ground, since even walking over it is extremely difficult.

The slash would be no considerable problem, if it would rot as fast as it does in a natural forest environment. However, with this environment gone, fungi and bacteria necessary for decomposition of slash, no longer have the required shade and humidity that is necessary for their successful survival. As a consequence the slash starts to dry out, and becomes a fire-hazard, and would probably lie around for centuries, or at least until sufficient natural growth has regrown to provide the required environment for decomposition.

This could either take too long, or could not happen at all.

The slash must therefore be at least partially removed by man, before any attempt at reforestation can be made. So to overcome one machinery caused problem, other machinery is brought in. Two methods for slash removal have thus far been used in Alberta clear-cut areas.

Methods of slash removal and damage done to the environment by these methods will be described in the next article.

Baptist Chapel Announces Bible Program

The First Baptist Chapel of St. Albert announces the beginning of their Family Sunday School Program this Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Leo Nickerson Elementary School, 10 Sycamore Ave. Bible study classes are provided for adults and youth. Departments are established for pre-schoolers of at least four years of age, Grades 1 - 3, and Grades 4 - 6.

The First Baptist Chapel had initiated Sunday evening services last October, and is now ready to launch their full range of Bible study ministry, states Pastor H. S. Giffin.

Since the adult program on Sunday afternoons will be a combination worship service and Bible study sessions, the evening services are being discontinued at this time.

Everyone is welcome to attend the Family Bible Hour. "Excellent lesson materials and an active learning program will enrich your family," reports Mr. Lawrence Howard, Sunday School Director of the sponsoring Dovercourt Baptist Church of Edmonton.

Another week-long Vacation Bible School is planned for this summer in the tradition of the past three years.

Socreds Fail To Befuddle Alert Lougheed Team

The air was extremely tense in Legislature Friday afternoon when Peter Lougheed's newly-elected Progressive Conservative government sat for its first session following the Speech from the Throne.

Most of the apprehension seemed to stem from the fact that this session was 'a first' for most of the 49-member Lougheed team while across the house sat old and experienced Social Credit statesmen. Another unknown factor and one that the PCs knew they'd have to reckon with was the sole NDP member who in theory forms part of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition.

The first question period was launched by Opposition Leader Harry Strom. Quite obviously, the newly-elected PC government cabinet members had done their homework. The question period wasn't a very brilliant one, nevertheless, Premier Lougheed and his team came out of it looking good.

Moving the reply to the Speech from the Throne was Peter Trynchy, PC member for Whitecourt who started his maiden speech by announcing that the new Alberta government has recognized that the province can no longer rely totally on natural resources for prosperity. Mr. Trynchy said, "the new government will be an improvement on the 36-year old Social Credit regime because it is not going to be a complacent one. We recognize that life is not all gravy."

He said the Conservatives will operate in the manner of a family farm "bought by a son with more energy than his father and with more awareness of current requirements."

"You can't run a province in the 1970s and 1980s with the methods of the 1950s and 1960s," he said.

Cal Lee, PC member for Calgary-McKnight seconded the reply. In his opening remarks, he said he was proud to have been named chairman of a government MLA task force on manpower and retraining. He praised the efforts of Labor Minister Dr. Bert Hohol to combat unemployment.

The government's success in placing more than 3,300 unemployed Albertans in some 160 retraining courses by early January of this year reflects its belief that people come first, said Mr. Lee.

The priorities employment program will involve initial expenditures of $10 million, despite the fact that much of the problem was caused by other governments and the previous Social Credit administration did not take adequate steps to combat it, said Mr. Lee. Gordon Taylor, Social Credit member for Drumheller attempted to adjourn the Assembly and introduce discussion on the grain transportation situation in Alberta, but he was quickly ruled out-of-order. After the Session, Hon. Lou Hyndman, PC member for Edmonton-Glenora explained that the grain movement situation in the province is of course important and will be thoroughly discussed at a later date.

WI marks 13 years in Calahoo

By Liz McLeod

The Feb. 28 meeting of Calahoo WI saw 14 members and Chris Zacharias, Pauline Kolesar, Clara Loyer and Lucienne Vader present in Cecile Berry's home at 8:30 p.m.

A good turnout of husbands were welcome also. Frank Kolesar, Kris Dalheim, Vic Albrecht, Roy Schermund and Carl Bergstrelser who incidentally is looking well for just being home from hospital after surgery.

The routine order of the meeting was followed and such subjects as cookbooks and extra recipes and the flower show were discussed. President Mary Dalheim informed us of the District Conference, March 7 and 8 and some of the speakers will be: Sally Merchant, Irene McGregor, Jean Butler (of the Commune to speak on communal life) and J. Patrick Giese.

With health the subject we touched on such topics as kidney disease detection, where the federal government will undertake to examine 12,000 school girls. The drug Rifampin used in treating infectious TB. A liquid called Lomott that is used in treating chronic diarrhea, and the Okraplat that is used in soups and stews is also used as plasma replacement. In Germany there is a new drug used in cancer treatment. The smallest vaccination isn't used now unless young outside our country.

Finally Stephanie read excerpts from a book: 'Advice to a Wife,' printed in 1889 by Pye Henry Chabasse. Very amusing.

With this meeting our WI have been active for 13 years and are to be commended on their near perfect attendance at all of their meetings.

For Mrs. C. Bergstrelser, P. McLeod it was perfect attendance and President Mary Dalheim pleasantly surprised them with the Federated Women's Institute pin which she presented to them.

Lina Bergstrelser was presented with a Prayer Plant, a gift for her stay in hospital.

The roll call of make or bake a Valentine produced many lovely articles plus gaily decorated cakes, cupcakes and cookies.

The door prize brought by Mary Dalheim was won by her daughter-in-law, our new member Mrs. J. Dalheim.

The March 27 meeting will be held at Mrs. W. Christen's home at 8:30 p.m.

Visitors are always welcome.

Some 8,125 farmer co-operatives are functioning in the United States.

The United States is the world's third largest agricultural importing country. The United Kingdom leads and West Germany is second.

Farm real estate value has risen 64 per cent since 1958 for roughly the same acres. Farmers' real estate taxes rose 54 per cent in the same period.

American agriculture's assets now total $307 billion dollars.

More than 40 per cent of America's grass seed comes from Oregon.

A most interesting meeting was planned for the Rural Electrification Association in Onoway, March 4. The evening started out with a delicious banquet catered to by Onoway WI, followed by the annual meeting after which slides were shown of a group of 29 boy scouts and their leaders on an unforgettable trip to the World's Fair in Osaka, Japan.

The color was fantastic, the countryside breathtakingly beautiful, the streets very narrow but so clean, no litter to be seen anywhere, and even amid such crowded dwellings a green tree grew.

Identify yourself as a Canadian and you received the best attention everywhere we were told.

Vance and Cecile Berry, Roy and Alice Schermund, John and Dena Grope, John and Helen Racio, Malcolm McKenzie, Adelard and Melina Paquette, Myles Kerr, Elsa Lischewski, Lucienne Vader and Pete and Liz McLeod enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. Arvilla Mejaun enjoyed the visit last Sunday when she asked her daughter er Patsy Flaherty and sons Doyle and Ward and Marilyn (Schafers) Berry over to dinner.

Jim Flaherty just returned off a job from Ontario and received a call to Itanbow Lake so Felix and Donna Berube and Patsy took Jim so as to be there on time for duty. Consequently Doyle and Ward are enjoying grandmother's house.

Kon and Eileen Stevenson are back home from Ontario and living in their trailer next to Marcel and Marilyn Berry's and Hubert and Dorothy Quintal's.

Mrs. Carrie Akerman is home from hospital and progressing favorably and is presently enjoying her daughter Daphne Kerr's presence.

Mrs. Alice Warren's very proudly telling her friends know that she is now a great grandmother since Don and Maryanne Warren's daughter Colleen gave birth to an 8 lb. baby girl on Feb. 29. Poor dear will only have a birthday once in four, since this is leap year.

George and Betty McLeod, Connie and Beekie came to Calahoo, March 5 to visit with their daughter Nancy and Harold Christen. Brother Bruce enjoyed a visit at both Harold and Nancy's and Uncle Pete's.

Werner and Tona and Rudy Christen went to the city for a visit and dinner date.

RURAL RECREATION

By Carl Royan

LEADERSHIP COURSES:

There are three very important leadership courses available this summer for persons who are interested in leading recreational activities.

The first of these courses is a playground leadership school which will be held in a location near the MD of Sturgeon. This course will assist playground leaders in preparing for the playgrounds throughout the MD this summer. There has in the past been very little playground activity in the area so it is very important to get a good start this summer with good programs handled by trained personnel. The leadership course will last for about a week, during the last part of June, and the first part of July. As this is a program sponsored by the provincial government it will be necessary to have the recreation board sponsor each participant from this area. If you are interested contact me at 256-3321 or 424-6276.

The second course being offered is the Provincial Recreation Leadership School. This course runs from July 2 to July 29 and is held in Drumheller with the participants being located in the Drumheller Composite High School Residence, Rec School, as it is referred to, is an ideal place to increase leadership skills in all aspects of recreation. A participant can specialize in athletics or in other aspects of recreation such as drama, arts and crafts etc., or a combination of the two as many of the courses are on an optional rather than required basis. The atmosphere is very warm and many lasting friendships are established as there are young people from all over Alberta attending the course. I have attended Rec School myself and recommend it highly to any person interested. Applicants must be of high school age or older in order to qualify and willing to work with the MD Recreation Board and myself in recreational activities after completing the course. The fee is $70 which will be paid by the Recreation Board if the candidate is willing to assist with the recreation program.

The third course is comprised of a number of music workshops. These workshops are of interest to all age groups and the instructors are very well qualified. I will be giving more information on this matter as I receive it myself. So watch this section or contact me if you are interested and would like more information.

church. They gave their views on the Holy Spirit which they have been studying this year and used the new music accompanied by the accordion and symbols. This service was enjoyed by all and we were glad to see Mr. Miller back after his stay in hospital.

Congratulations to Mr. Paul Turgenev and his bride of March 4, the former Miss Jean Nelson, who were married in Edmonton last Saturday. A reception for invited relatives and friends followed the ceremony.

TOWN OF MORINVILLE Notice of Public Meeting

The Council of the Town of Morinville intends to enact a zoning bylaw pursuant to Section 119 of the Planning Act, 1968, as amended for the purpose of controlling development within the Town of Morinville.

The new zoning bylaw numbered 1/72 will repeal and replace the existing zoning bylaw number 437, as amended.

The proposed bylaw may be examined during normal business hours in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer at Morinville, Alberta.

A public hearing will be held in the Council Chamber on Tuesday, March 28, 1972, commencing at 8 p.m. in order to hear any objections to the proposed bylaw. Objections shall be submitted in writing prior to the meeting. They will be received by the Secretary-Treasurer at his office until 5 p.m. on March 28, 1972. Those which have been received before the designated time will be discussed at the meeting before further oral presentations will be recognized.

Last minute reminder to all citizens of the town and district that next Sunday, March 12 will be Lion Ice Carnival time in Morinville, beginning at 2 p.m. in the arena.

Among those from the district who attended the Opening of the First Session of the 17th Alberta Legislature last Thursday were Reeve Walter Van de Walle and Mrs. Van de Walle from Legal; Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, Mrs. A. R. Martel and Mr. Gerard Pelletier of Morinville.

Anyone interested in donating their eyes after death, or their body, for transplant donations or medical research, may do so by filling in application forms for both or either, now available at various business places in Morinville. For the peace of mind of many individuals, it may be said, that neither church or society frowns any longer on the donations of cadavers for medical purposes. Cremation is also permitted, for those who wish to have their remains disposed of in that manner, after the university is finished with their research, burial in the family plot may be arranged for as well, if so desired, by individual or family members. The gift of sight is a great one to donate to another individual. To permit others to benefit from medical research after death is also a great charity to mankind in general. It is best to discuss and inform other members of the family before these arrangements are made final.

The Morinville Lions are sponsoring this most worthwhile cause in our community and Lion Mayor Arthur Stapleton, chairman of the committee, will be more than willing to discuss the particulars with individuals or groups.

Legal Credit Union Holds 29th Annual Meeting

The 29th annual meeting of the Legal Savings and Credit Union was held on Feb. 26. With some 80 members present. The winner of the door prize was Mr. R. W. Hunting - $10.00. After the opening statement of the chairman, various committees presented their reports. The president reported a definite indication of growth in all phases of the credit union.

The credit committee thanked the members for their support and invited them to continue using their credit union for all of their financial needs.

The financial report was presented and revealed that there is $7,474 available for distribution in the form of dividends. President, Mr. Leonard Blanchette declared that pending government approval the credit union would pay three and one-half per cent dividend on the 1971 operation.

The elections of new officers were held and there will be some new faces around the table at the next board meeting. Richard Montpetit was elected for a three year term to the board of directors and Roland Tieulle and Robert Regimbald to the supervisory committee. The president welcomed these new board members to their various positions and thanked Dick Hunting, Lorenzo St. Jean and Maurice Regimbald for their good work while in office.

The manager, Marcel Dube was somewhat surprised when he was presented with a 10-year service award. This plaque will occupy a place of honor in the Legal Credit Union office. The guests of the even-

Credit Union Manager Reports Record Year

Following is the address of Manager, Marcel Dube, to the Legal Savings and Credit Union at their annual meeting:

The past 10 years have marked many changes in the Credit Union. Back in 1961 the assets of the Credit Union were $210,524, and at Dec. 31, 1971 the assets were $813,424 an increase of $602,900. This increase we feel was due to the fact that members recognized that this is your organization - working with you and for you and decided to support it.

Perhaps the additional ing were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Malcolm examiner, Government of Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. L. Kinell, Cuna Mutual insurance representative and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Alain manager of the St. Albert Savings and Credit Union.

The above mentioned guests brought greetings and extended congratulatory messages to Legal Credit Union Board and members on the good growth it has shown in 1971.

Having expressed appreciation to the ladies for preparing a very delicious supper the president asked Mrs. Glen Malcolm to draw the ladies $5 door prize which was won by Mrs. Mary Kachurowski.

To conclude the evening the board had organized a social evening which was enjoyed by all.

services that were offered helped in the growth of your organization. Some of these were the introduction of "Term Deposit Program," "Blue Chips," Farm Family Loans, collection of most of the utility bills and personalized cheques that are made available at no direct cost to you as members.

If you feel that your Credit Union is not doing all it can for you, please feel free to make recommendations and I'm sure your board of directors will do everything in their power to see to it, that you as members, get the services that you want.

It may well be that there are still some of you that are hesitant to come to the Credit Union office for your financial needs; we feel that whatever your needs - farm operation, furnitures, cars or even income tax - we can help you finance your needs.

Looking back over the records of the past years, 1971 has been the best so far. Let us hope that we will not satisfy ourselves with saying, "things are going well. Let's keep on using our organization to the fullest extent, and I'm sure that the years that lie ahead will far surpass those of the past.

I would like, on behalf of the staff and myself, to thank all of our members for their support and co-operation which enabled your Credit Union to realize the growth that it has in the past 10 years.

Marcel Dube, left, accepts a 10-year service award from Leonard Blanchette, president of the Legal Savings and Credit Union on the occasion of the annual meeting.

Schools Named After Founding Fathers

The four schools in the St. Albert Public School District #3 system are St. Albert High School, Albert Lacombe School, Vital Grandin School and Father Jan School.

What's in a name, you may ask, quite a lot in this instance we think.

St. Albert High and Albert Lacombe School are named after the founder of St. Albert, Father Albert Lacombe. Vital Grandin School is named after Bishop Vital Grandin. Father Jan School is the namesake of Father Alphonse Jan.

Lacombe's first settlement at Lac Ste. Anne met only partial success. As a result, with the permission of his superiors, the mission was moved to what is now St. Albert. Lacombe was instructed to name the new mission after his patron saint. It was the spring of 1861 when Lacombe migrated from Lac Ste. Anne with oxen, horses, plow and wagon, followed by 20 families. He built a chapel-residence and partitioned out to each family a narrow strip of land facing the Sturgeon River in the vicinity of Big Lake. He built St. Albert's first bridge to enable all to cross the flooding Sturgeon River.

In the summer of 1862 a log church, which is now the Lacombe Museum, was erected and in 1863 saw the erection of a convent and an orphanage in St. Albert. Three Sisters of Charity (Grey Nuns) were brought in from Lac Ste. Anne where they had been working since 1859, teaching children and caring for the aged. They continued their work at the new mission.

For two more years Lacombe was the moving spirit behind other accomplishments in the new mission. It was at this time that he was transferred out of St. Albert.

Vital Grandin, OMI, took up residence in St. Albert in 1868. He is credited with great courage and stamina in his efforts within the mission during the dreaded smallpox plague of 1870. His efforts to help the families of the community were tireless in spite of his own ailing health. Grandin was named bishop of St. Albert, then the headquarters of the Catholic church in what is now known as Alberta, in 1871.

Father Alphonse Jan, OMI was responsible for the renovation of the church crypt in the St. Albert Catholic Church, which holds the remains of both Lacombe and Grandin. This renovation began in 1926 and was the prelude to the opening of the Lacombe Museum and the unveiling of the bronze statue of Father Lacombe on July 21, 1929.

So perhaps there is more to a name than simply meets the eye after all.

Statements Mailed To Ratepayers

Due to a change in the Town and Village Act, the council of the Town of St. Albert has approved a motion not to hold an annual meeting this year.

The Gazette will therefore publish a complete report of the town's financial standing in next week's edition. This report will include expenditures against revenues and will also qualify the more important financial entries which we feel are of public interest.

Co-operative school has outstanding program for pre-school children

A comprehensive and carefully planned learning program is offered to the 24 children who attend the St. Albert Co-operative play school. Classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 11, and all the boys and girls are of and age to be in school the following year.

This year the program opened with a study on "preparing for winter". The young pupils learn how animals and people make these preparations and field trips, art work and special projects reinforce the learning process. December is given over to the Christmas story, Christmas preparations and a party.

In the new year almost a month was devoted to a study of planets and constellations, called the "Magic Roof" study, culminating in a visit to the Planetarium. These visits are done on a mass movement program for kindergarten planned by the planetarium and the morning the playschool children made their visit. Mrs. Una Gibson, their teacher estimated that these 24 children answered 60-70 per cent of the questions asked, out of total attending of approximately 75 young pupils.

A three - part study on Canada is presently underway and the children have just completed part one: "Who was here before we came" in which they learned a good deal about our native peoples. Now they will study about our "Pioneers" and how they came across Canada to settle the West. A visit to the historical museum at 101 street and 11th avenue in Edmonton will be part of the trip, and the children of the playschool visit the Lacombe museum annually also.

"Canada today" forms the third part of the study and children can find out what to expect when they start grade one. They will visit people at work in the community as part of this program.

To get ready for Spring all sorts of interesting projects have been planned for a study of farming, planting and growing things.

In order to keep costs down the play school is run by volunteer parents who hire a qualified teacher and then work with her. Mrs. Gibson, who was in on the ground floor when the Co-operative Playschool began three years ago, as an interested mother, found herself becoming more and more involved. She took leadership training programs for teaching pre-schoolers, in Edmonton and became a teacher the following year.

Una makes extensive use of learning and doing methods and the children enjoy such things as finger painting, potato printing, paper mache work, freeart, making costumes for special occasions, musical gymnastics, singing games and records, all of which are related to the studies they are following.

"The co-operation from parents is tremendous" says Mrs. Gibson, "I just couldn't ask for better".

An Indian sent the following message to the Prime Minister: "Be careful with your immigration laws. We weren't careful enough with ours."

You and your domestic "power hour"

Look at the power/full difference 21 years made to the cost of Mom's Monday morning workout!

THEN: That wringer-washer was a heavy duty heavyweight. It was hard on fabrics, and threatened to nip Mom's fingers in its rollers. But the clothes came out clean — for a 1951 power cost of 16¢ a month.

NOW: The wonder-washer of 1972 features special cycles for special fabrics: a gentle cycle babies drip-dry and synthetic clothing. The whole machine looks better, functions better than its predecessor. Power for the wash in 1972 costs only

10¢ a month.

Despite continually increasing costs, the price of electricity is far less than 21 years ago.
